Product Description

The Forerunner 50 is an affordable, streamlined sports watch that incorporates ANT+Sport wireless technology. It's available with heart rate monitor, FootPod (for tracking speed and distance) or both. You can even use this versatile sports watch for cycling when paired with an optional speed/cadence sensor, or for multi-sport workouts.

Once you've logged the miles, Garmin's innovative ANT wireless technology automatically transfers workouts to your computer when your device is within range - no cables, no hook-ups.
